PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Client: National Food Processor

Description: Design and construction of extensions and upgrade of the head office for a Victorian based national company involved in poultry processing for the mass consumer market. Architectural design was completed in-house by Total Construction's own staff. The new reception entrance and administration area is the showpiece of the facility.

The work had to be done whilst the office remained operational. It included reconfiguration of the IT department and the construction of an internal landscaped courtyard with water feature to allow the outside to be viewed from the comfort of internal working spaces.

Project Cost: $750,000
