Total Construction was awarded this contract by Incoll for interior fit out of the administration office adjoining the new Surdex Steel Rolling Mill at Dandenong, Victoria. The finished result is stunning and includes a hand woven screen separating the reception area from office fixtures behind. Architectural appearance of the building exterior is matched by the equally attractive fittings and furnishings making an appealing work space for employees. The open plan office offers spacious accommodation for admin staff, a canteen and factory staff ablutions.

This was a large project with many scope changes which made achievement of the programmed completion date difficult. Despite these challenges the project was completed to the satisfaction of the client and project manager.
